Gladia's $16 million fundraising (Software/IA)

Chammas & Marcheteau advised XAnge, lead investor in Gladia's $16 million Series A fundraising, alongside a number of Anglo-Saxon funds.

Founded in 2022, Gladia is an AI-driven transcription and audio intelligence platform capable of processing over 100 languages while adapting seamlessly to different accents and language switches during live conversations.

This milestone will enable the company to evolve from a speech-to-text API provider into a comprehensive audio infrastructure platform, revolutionizing industries such as contact center platforms, sales enablement tools, and AI meeting assistants with cutting-edge real-time transcription and analytics technology.

The Chammas & Marcheteau team consisted of Denis Marcheteau (partner) and Arys Serdjanian (associate).
